2008-2014 FOI requests to CPS

The CPS define domestic violence as any threatening behaviour, violence or abuse (psychological, physical, sexual, financial or emotional) between those who are or have been intimate partners or family members, regardless of gender or sexuality. Family members include mother, father, son, daughter, sister, and grandparents, whether directly related, in laws or step family.

CPS domestic violence statistics are dependant upon lawyers and administrative staff identifying applicable cases and flagging the case on the Case Management System.

The data held by the CPS reporting the gender of defendants are held in the CPS Case Management Information System, and should not be regarded as a complete or definitive record. The gender of the defendant is unknown in some cases and may not be recorded in others. Defendants with no gender recorded have been excluded from these analyses.

1. Convictions comprise guilty pleas, convictions after trial and proceedings which are proved in absence.
2. Unsuccessful Outcomes comprise prosecutions dropped, administrative finalisations, discharged committals and cases acquitted or dismissed following a contested hearing.

(A) CPS data are available through its Case Management System (CMS) and associated Management Information System (MIS). The CPS collects data to assist in the effective management of its prosecution functions. The CPS does not collect data which constitutes official statistics as defined in the Statistics and Registration Service Act 2007. These data have been drawn from the CPS's administrative IT system, which, as with any large scale recording system, is subject to possible errors with data entry and processing. The figures are provisional and subject to change as more information is recorded by the CPS.

(B) The official statistics relating to crime and policing are maintained by the Home Office and the official statistics relating to sentencing, criminal court proceedings, offenders brought to justice, the courts and the judiciary are maintained by the Ministry of Justice.
